

HÔTEL NELLIGAN AND RUE SAINT-PAUL

The Street Within

A guest sequence built from four reviewed Montréal street records.

FOUR REVIEWED RECORDS · ONE GUEST SEQUENCE

THE OPPORTUNITY

Four buildings. One interior street.

The documented hotel complex joins former commercial buildings through an interior atrium. The proposal uses that structure to connect the stay to rue Saint-Paul and the surrounding district.

VERIFIED ANCHOR

Former William-Cormack store-warehouse,
106–112 rue Saint-Paul Ouest.

INPUTS

1852–53

Former William-Cormack store-warehouse constructed after the 1852 fire.

1866 onward

The connected buildings become associated with the Lyman pharmaceutical business.

2001–02

Historic buildings are integrated into Hôtel Nelligan.

2026

A new interior chapter led by Corner Collection and Atelier Zébulon Perron.

“The hotel gives the guest a way to read the city outside.”

MEET THE STREET

Arrival begins with one archive-reported public space and a clear source.

CROSS THE LAYERS

Four records occupy a conceptual atrium at different levels and reading distances.

STAY AMONG TRACES

One room application gives a record quiet attention without claiming a hotel sightline.

CONTINUE THE WALK

The final record directs attention back to present-day Montréal.

FOUR REVIEWED FILES

One record for each encounter.

01

Square d'Youville

Meet the Street: archive-reported Square d'Youville as a broad arrival threshold.

1920S • ARCHIVE-REPORTED

02

Rue McGill

Cross the Layers: a vertical street corridor of movement, storefront rhythm, and depth.

1930S • ARCHIVE-REPORTED

03

Banque de Montréal, Place d'Armes

Stay Among Traces: a civic room and framed outlook, never claimed as a hotel sightline.

30 MARCH 1936 • ARCHIVE-REPORTED

04

Rue des Commissaires / rue de la Commune

Continue the Walk: the working waterfront releases the guest back into the living city.

1936 • ARCHIVE-REPORTED

01 / CROSS THE LAYERS

Four records.
Four levels
of attention.

Four full-frame archive objects establish a vertical sequence of street scale, movement, civic detail, and the working waterfront.

Scale	Variable; measured next phase
Light	Linear graze + available daylight
Decision	Sightline, loading, attachment, life safety

02 / ROOM

STAY AMONG TRACES

One full-frame civic image gives the guest a quiet moment of attention. It is presented as an artwork with a source, not as a view from the room.

Location	Selected room categories
Scale	Approx. 900 × 600 mm; verify
Substrate	Museum-grade archival paper
Light	2700K picture light; low UV
Maintenance	Dry dust; low-glare glazing
Rights	Reproduction review required

03 / CONCIERGE

CONTINUE THE WALK

The concierge pairs one wide archival object with a current recommendation. The source record and the present-day route remain separate.

Location	Concierge / outward-facing salon
Scale	Approx. 1100 × 750 mm; verify
Substrate	Archival print + source-linked route card
Light	2700K wall wash; low glare
Maintenance	Dry dust; route content review
Rights	Reproduction and route review required

NELLIGAN

A walk from Nelligan

One archival view. One present-day observation. One route chosen with the concierge.

DURATION	45 MINUTES
FORMAT	OUTDOOR WALK
REVIEW	ROUTE PENDING

Archive 04 Rue des Commissaires / rue de la Commune 1936 · VM94,SY,SS1,SSS17,D166

CURRENT POSITION AND APPROVAL PATH

What Nelligan would approve.

AREA	CURRENT POSITION	HOTEL APPROVAL
Archive selection	Four reviewed candidates	Brand and curatorial approval
Image use	Full-frame concept treatment	Reproduction and crop approval
Placement	Three proposed guest encounters	Property, facilities, and life-safety review
Guest language	English concept copy drafted	French and English brand review
Operations	Maintenance and route assumptions	Housekeeping and concierge sign-off

Provenance keeps the approved source, treatment, permissions, placement, guest copy, and production file connected behind these decisions.
